Music and/as Process Fifth annual conference in association with the Society for Minimalist Music

20 May 2017 University of Wolverhampton Performance Hub, Walsall Campus

With the support of CCHIP: Centre for Creativity, History and Identity in Performance Faculty of Arts at the University of Wolverhampton.

Time	Room	Description
9:00 - 9:30	Third floor atrium	Welcome
9:30 - 11:00	WH123	Paper session 1a Victoria Aschheim, 'David Lang's Inventories' John Pymm, 'Chanting and chattering: Steve Reich and the Museum of Merchandise' Joanne Mills, 'Repetition as Pattern in early Minimalism'
	WH304	Paper session 1b Scott Mc Laughlin, 'Patterns, Languages, and Materiality' Richard Stenton, 'The Publication as an Alternative Musical Space: Composing the Medium and Subsequent Interaction Patterns' David Colton, 'Beyond aleatoricism? The case for varying distinctions between types of aleatory or chance process in the arts'
11:00 - 11:30	Third floor atrium	Tea and coffee
11:30 - 13:00	WH123	Paper session 2a Max Erwin, 'Up from Serialism: Static form and minimal patterns in the late work of Karel Goeyvaerts' Lauren Redhead, 'Patterns and Processes in Chris Newman's The Reason Why I Am Unable To Live In My Own Country As A Composer Is A Political One (1983)'

		Desmond Clarke, 'Bach-like Paths – Partita Algoritmica'
	WH304	Paper session 2b Steve Tromans, 'Rhythmicity: Conceptualising the Complex Patterns of Musical-Philosophical Thought'
		Huey-Shiuan Lin, 'The repetition in devised performances when applying musical structures as compositional and dramaturgical tools'
		James Millea, 'Menace to Narrativity: Hip Hop Music as Process on the Cinematic Soundtrack'
13:00 - 14:00	Third floor atrium	Lunch
14:00 - 15:00	WH123	Keynote Jennie Gottschalk 'Natural or Chance Configurations'
15:00 - 15:15	Third floor atrium	Tea and coffee
15:30 - 17:00	WH123	Paper session 3a Anne Ku, 'Pattern recognition in sight-reading'
		Nicola Pennill, 'Detection of patterns of verbal interactions in rehearsal of a newly-formed vocal ensemble'
	WH304	Paper session 3b John Hails, 'for one'
		Tom Parkinson, 'Drums at the Speed of Sound or The Distance Between us'
		Alistair Zaldua, 'Quantitative Metric Processes in farben der frühe (2005) and interregnum (2016-17)'
17:00 - 18:00	Third floor atrium	Wine reception
18:00 - 19:00	Black Box Theatre	Paul Cassidy solo piano concert